They also used malachite and turquoise pigments for eye makeup and red ochre for lips and cheeks.

Middle Ages to Renaissance

During the Middle Ages, makeup's reputation fluctuated due to moral and religious perceptions. Pale skin became a symbol of wealth and nobility, leading women to use lead-based powders and white face paints?often with dangerous health consequences. 20th Century and Modernization

The 20th century marked a significant transformation in makeup, driven by technological advances and changing societal norms. The flapper era of the 1920s popularized bold eye makeup and dark lips. The post-war period saw the rise of commercial cosmetic brands like Max Factor and Maybelline, making makeup more accessible to the masses. The latter half of the century introduced innovations like liquid foundation, waterproof mascara, and lipstick formulations tailored for durability and safety.
